

Where Is The Heart That Beat So True

Waltz
150

Words and Music
Randall Effner

E_b E_b E_b E_b

We

E_b B_b

^{5a} were sweethearts in Chi - na we mar - ried in the Spring

A_b E_b

Found an a - part - ment out - side of Bei - jing

E_b B_b

^{14a} Our good times were many our prob - lems were

A_b few We were care - free and happ - y a na - tion of

E_b

two

E_b B_b

^{25a} But it was - n't long af - ter our daugh - ter arr - ived My

A_b E_b

Wife came down sick and she bare - ly sur - vived

E_b B_b

We saw lots of doc - tors as the years slipped

A_b

by But she failed to improve much and we did - n't know

E_b Chorus

why Oh

E_b B_b

^{45b} where is she now the love of my life What

A_b B_b7

has be - come of my beau - ti - ful wife

E_b B_b

Where is the hap - pi - ness that we once

A_b E_b

knew Where is the heart that beat

B_b7 E_b

so true.

Verse 3

Then one day my wife learned about Falun Gong
She studied and practiced and it didn't take long Till her illness had vanished without leaving a trace
She had a bounce in her step and a smile on her face

Verse 4

The next several years were the best we had known
She followed the way that her Teacher had shown
But storm clouds were brewing in the Ruling Party
Jiang Zemin was stewing in his own jealousy

Verse 5

There was light in the darkness and so Jiang's cabal
Found a final solution to get rid of them all
He launched the red terror on a hot summer night
My wife was arrested and she dropped out of sight

Chorus

Verse 6

Two years went by slowly, our child turned fourteen
She held back her tears as she asked me again
"How could the police take my mother away?"
"Will she be home by my next birthday?"

Verse 7

I searched high and low but I found not a clue
Where she was taken, seemed nobody knew
Then I dropped to my knees when the truth came to light
About thirty-six death camps, hidden from sight

Verse 8

There's crimes taking place and I'm making it clear
So the whole world will know what is happening here
They're harvesting organs from live detainees
For sale to the transplant industry

Chorus